

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. Wm. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mother and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mother—daughters, why not try it?

BRIGHTER EVENINGS

Just History

In '76
The Colonial Dame
Spun her cloth
By Candle flame.

In 1860
In Crinoline bright,
She greeted her guests
By Coal Oil light.

And later on,
How time does pass
Her home was lit
By flickering Gas.

But the girl of to-day
Who wants her home bright,
Just presses a button
And has Electric Light.

PLEA FOR THE CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

The 160 children housed in the old row of residences in Louisville, which for 25 years had been their domicile of the Kentucky Children's Home Society, have moved to the country. They left behind them the noise and bustle, to romp and play over the great farm at Lyndon, Ky. They have moved into their cottage village.

From out of strange casements, those cold gray days last week, 160 little faces peered with the first streaks of dawn, to look out upon entirely new fields.

In automobiles furnished by the Kiwanis Club, the children made the 15 mile journey from the old quarters on Baxter avenue, into the land of childhood's fancy and dreams. At one o'clock in the afternoon the first automobile rolled up before the door of the old home, then came another automobile, another and another, the long line stretching into the distance.

Wild cheers resounded from each upstairs window to greet the Kiwanians and then the clatter of running feet was the forewarning of the crowd of surging humanity that swirled out of doors and about the machines.

The dream of a life-time had been realized.

Many of the children learned for the first time the unhampered delight of great, open fields to romp across; these were the children committed from Louisville and other Kentucky cities. Still others were but returning to fields they loved. They were children from the mountains, the coal fields and other rural sections of the State. These latter had known only that depressing poverty of rural life being taken in under the protection of the Society.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof As This Should Convince Any Paris Citizen

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Paris adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

Robert Link, proprietor grocery store, 1631 South Main street, Paris, says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be the best kidney medicine I ever used and can't recommend them too highly. My back had given me no end of trouble and there was a steady, dull ache just over my kidneys. My kidneys acted too frequently, too. I began using Doan's Pills and in a short time I was completely rid of the trouble." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Link had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv.)

In these rapid days some children are setting their parents a good example.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. (F-17)

BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR NEW YEAR

Cleveland Financial Paper Gives Glow To Business Prospects For The New Year

(Business Review, Cleveland, O.)

From many there is a sigh of relief that 1922 is the date on our calendar rather than 1921. While conditions continue much as they have been during the past few months with the murkiness slowly but surely disappearing, there are, however, the inevitable uncertainties still cropping out at unexpected times and places. Nineteen twenty-two is being entered with decks cleared for action. Even though further adjustments must be completed, conditions to-day are in happy contrast to those that faced us a year ago.

Ups-and-down and hard knocks are sometimes a means of growth. It is earnestly to be hoped that business has profited by the obstacles encountered in the past, and that the lessons will be utilized. Business can no longer be frightened by a sudden jar or shock. This means progress.

Then, too, we are getting back to a saner method of living and thinking. Speculation in fly-by-night schemes has lost much of its old popularity and in its place is a desire to invest in good securities. Level-headedness is being shown in a truer appreciation of a dollar's value. And of even greater importance is the fact that we have at last reached the place where we are beginning to realize that no artificial machinery can be invented for avoiding the consequences of over trading and unwise business policies; that there is no detour on the rough and even painful road of readjustment that we have been following.

But this is no place to stop. A vital need at present is to aid business in every way possible. We are faced by a peculiar situation just now. With the exception of the holiday trade and a few other lines of industry, this is naturally the dull period of the year, and many people have made up their minds that nothing is to be expected until later. This is a poor way to get any where for it logically follows that if this "later" time fails to bring the expected developments, then this same policy will be continued. It is easy to give advice and sometimes difficult to know just where to start to shove, but with this in mind we believe that the thing business needs now is intelligent and constructive push-aheadness.

It very frequently happens that the most effective way to accomplish something is to take advantage of the little things even though they may appear indirect. The day of "easy-money" has passed and into its shoes has stepped a keen competition for business. To meet this competition the so-called "little things" must be watched. Advantage must be taken of every opportunity as it presents itself, and not only that, but we must go after business. It is true, business is poor and results are hard to get, but it certainly can do no harm to get organizations back into the old-time methods of good hard sales efforts. The success of companies and individuals will be measured by their determination and a real honest desire to serve the public.

Thrift is one of the master keys that will open the way to better business. Thrift and economy are old-fashioned virtues, but coupled with present day intelligence, a combination is formed that is hard to beat. As time goes on people are appreciating more and more the necessity for thrift, and it is gradually gaining a larger significance than it has held for several years.

There is need of confidence in present day business, and thrift as a confidence builder stands in the front rank. From the depositor with his "nest egg" for a rainy day, to the large corporation that largely through thrift has adjusted itself to present conditions, it has no substitute.

By thrift is not meant denying ourselves the necessities of life, or carrying it to the extent of miserliness. We did, however, give riotous spending a fair trial. We found that this period of artificial prosperity could only be temporary, and what we have passed through in 1921 was the relapse that followed.

As we face 1922 nothing will help more to carry us through the remainder of the re-adjustment period, nothing will help more toward good, stable business and real prosperity, than a foundation of individual, corporate, municipal and national thrift.

Sleeps 6,000 Days.

A French statistician estimates that at the age of fifty years the average man has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500, walked 800, amused himself 4,000, spent 1,500 eating, and has been ill 500 days.

Sage Advice.

"Don't walk de floor worryin' 'bout yob debts," said Uncle Eben. "Do yob travelin' outdoors where mebbe you'll find a job dat'll help make a payment."

A Healthy Woman is Always Beautiful In The Eyes of Man

Lexington, Ky.—"During the time of middle life I used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I cannot praise it too highly for the good it did me. I believe the Favorite Prescription is bound to become a favorite remedy with each woman who gives it a fair trial. I have also used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble and for colds, etc., and I believe it to be the best general tonic that can be had."—Mrs. C. C. Oldham, 553 Breckenridge Street.
